AGRSS® Business Development Director Dan Mock Launches Blog on AGRSS.org

AGRSS Council Inc. business development director Dan Mock has begun writing a blog on www.agrss.org. The new blog, “AGRSS-Ive Updates,” will feature updates from Mock about his work with the AGRSS Council Inc., ideas for promoting the AGRSS Standard, and more.

“My goal is to get the message out to as many industry professionals as possible on an ongoing basis,” says Mock. “I want to create a spot where AGRSS-Registered companies are updated regularly on the benefits of their commitment to safety.”

Mock has more than 36 years of experience in the glass industry. He most recently served as vice president of franchise relations and training for a major auto glass franchisor. Prior to joining the AGRSS Council Inc., he also was a long-time member of the AGRSS Board of Directors.

The Auto Glass Replacement Safety Standards (AGRSS) Council Inc. is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to the safe replacement of auto glass. AGRSS was founded and is supported by companies in the auto glass replacement industry that keep safe installation as their primary goal. The Council is also accredited by the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) – a standard development organization – and has developed North America’s only auto glass replacement standard, the AGRSS Standard (ANSI/AGRSS 002-2002). The AGRSS Standard addresses procedures, education and product performance for the proper replacement of auto glass.
